TARGET LIST

Target List is a high-energy, fast-paced action-comedy about the creation of a life-saving healthcare instrument and big pharma's attempt to suppress the technology.

Our film addresses a well-known conspiracy theory within modern medicine that subscribes to the idea that the pharmaceutical industry is willing to hold back and even destroy healthcare inventions and discoveries that might help humanity have a better expression of health for the pursuit of monetary gain.

Good versus evil is the motivational force within Target List that ultimately drives the engine of this story toward its exciting climax and twist ending.

Hundreds upon hundreds of modern cinematic productions have touched on the theme of good versus evil or the light versus the darkness. In Target List, the main characters are all directly affected by these same polarities.
